REPORT.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE POLICE COMMISSIONER, 154 BERKELEY STREET,
BOSTON, December 1, 1930.

To His Excellency FRANK G. ALLEN, Governor.

YOUR EXCELLENCY: — In accordance with the provisions of chapter 291 of the Acts of 1906, I have the honor to submit, as Police Commissioner for the City of Boston, this report for the year ending November 30, 1930.

Following a special investigation by and report of the Attorney General, made on order of the General Court, Hon. Herbert A. Wilson was removed on May 6, 1930, as Police Commissioner by the Governor, with the approval of the Executive Council, and Hon. Eugene C. Hultman was appointed on May 7, 1930, to that office for a term of five years.

For the purpose of promoting the efficiency of the Police Department and increasing its effectiveness, many internal changes have been made by the Commissioner during the last six months in the organization of the force. Commanding officers of divisions are held strictly responsible, through the Superintendent, for the detection of criminals, the elimination of vice resorts, and the observance of law and good order in their respective divisions. In addition, division commanders are held directly accountable for the conduct of the officers under their direction, and their compliance with the rules and regulations of the Department. The Commissioner believes that this policy will give the executive officers of the Department a reasonable opportunity to demonstrate their qualifications and ability to render the kind of service which the public has a right to expect from its police force.

The investigation of the Attorney General disclosed that inadequate records and the actions of members of certain special units operating from Headquarters were in part the cause for complaints involving the Police Department. It was apparent that such special squads tended to shift or divide responsibility between division commanders and Headquarters. One of the first acts of the Commissioner was to disband these so-called vice squads, placing their duties squarely on the shoulders of the responsible officers of the Department. The Commissioner is giving personal attention to results achieved under this new method, which makes it possible to deal directly with the problems arising in the different divisions.

Probably no necessary procedure in connection with police duty is more misunderstood than that of transfers. It is essential that members of the Department be intimately familiar with all sections of the city, and when it appears that any officer is unable to cope with conditions confronting him, other officers may be found in the Department who will be able to effectively handle the situation. Many transfers of officers of rank as well as patrolmen have been made for the good of the service during the past seven months. Utilization of this administrative power is one of the means by which the Commissioner hopes to find out the qualifications and to develop the capabilities of members of the Department.

Believing that the Bureau of Criminal Investigation represents a branch of police duty of growing importance, a Deputy Superintendent has been assigned to have complete charge of the detective service branch of police work. This bureau is in close contact with other highly organized police forces throughout the country, and even with foreign countries. It renders a service of inestimable value to each division, providing it with expert advice and service in the identification and capture of dangerous criminals. To provide instruction and training in fingerprinting identification and the technique followed by the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, officers from various divisions have been assigned to this bureau. This training will make it possible to discover officers possessing the essential qualifications for this line of work, as well as enable the divisions to better understand the workings of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, and more intelligently co-operate with it. This bureau is constantly on duty, day and night, and in recent months it has a number of outstanding achievements to its credit. With a better appreciation of the value and workings of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, the Police Department as a whole will be able to deal more efficiently with dangerous criminals of all types. The development of this branch of police service is receiving from the Commissioner the special attention which he believes it merits, as, under present-day conditions, the Police Department must be equipped to expeditiously and effectively deal with all kinds of criminals.

A new "Uniformed Automobile Police Patrol" has been established which will operate continuously during the day and night from Divisions and Headquarters. This automobile patrol will supplement the service of regular route officers and will aid them, when necessary. It will be able to respond more speedily to the demands of the public. The signal system is being readjusted so that by means of flashing lights on the boxes, contact may be promptly made, even between regular duty calls, with route officers as well as the automobile patrol to post them to be on the lookout for criminals suspected of passing through their districts, or for emergency assignments. It is expected that this automobile patrol will be of great value in providing protection against hold-ups and other crimes of violence, as well as facilitating the prompt pursuit and capture of criminals involved in such cases.

Many other changes have been made in the administration of the affairs of the Department, such as, requiring lieutenants on divisional duty to spend at least two hours of every tour of duty on inspection duty upon the street, changing the procedure in connection with promotional examinations, installing a modern system of personnel records, revising the forms and records of the Department, and various other improvements that will facilitate the performance of the multitudinous duties entrusted to the Police Department.

On May 28, it was agreed between the Mayor and the Police Commissioner that the Law Department of the City of Boston would act as legal advisor to the Police Commissioner, and Leo Schwartz, Esq., Assistant Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, was designated to attend to legal matters connected with the Police Department. Under this arrangement authoritative legal advice is readily available in regard to the many legal questions constantly arising in the Department.

A special board consisting of three captains has been appointed to give careful consideration to suggestions received for the improvement of the Department and to report upon the feasibility of their practical application. In this way the best features of modern developments in police work will be known and their application can be adjusted to conform with the actual operation of the Department.

In connection with the comments of the Attorney General regarding the inadequacy of the records of the Department, special study has been given to this important matter, and, while a number of changes have already been made, many others are under consideration, as revisions in the keeping of such records are matters which must be applied gradually, so that there will be no hiatus in the preservation of proper records.

On November 18, Bernard P. Scanlan, Director of the Division on the Necessaries of Life, was appointed Secretary to the Police Commissioner, vice John H. Merrick, Esq., who resigned on July 18. Mr. Scanlan was designated to have charge of all records of this Department in addition to his other duties.

EXPENDITURES.

As shown by the financial statement in the latter part of this report, the total expenses of the Department for the twelve months ending November 30, 1930, for the pay of police and employees, pensions, supplies, expense of listing (the annual enrollment on April 1 of all persons 20 years of age or over) and including, also, the expense of maintaining the Police Signal Service,—amounted to $6,051,624.43.

For the corresponding period in 1929, for these items, there was expended $5,942,219.95, which shows an increase in 1930 of $109,404.48, due to increases in the salary, pension and annuity and listing items.

RECEIPTS.

The total receipts for 25,844 licenses in the twelve months ending November 30, 1930, was $66,219.75, and from all other sources, such as the sale of condemned, lost, stolen and abandoned property, license badges, copies of licenses, refunds, damage to police property and miscellaneous items, there was received $13,875.21, making a grand total of $80,094.96.

For the corresponding period in 1929, the receipts for 27,253 licenses issued, there was received $69,860.75 and from miscellaneous sources as detailed above, $10,753.49, making a grand total of $80,614.24.

ARRESTS

A brief comparison of the number of arrests for the major offences for the twelve months ending November 30, 1930, as compared with November 30, 1929, may be of interest.

PROSECUTIONS FOR NUISANCES.

Since my appointment a new process has been inaugurated to rid the city of vice, such as liquor, prostitution, gaming, and drugs, by actions in equity enjoining the maintenance of these nuisances, and ultimately closing buildings where nuisances have been allowed to exist by the owners or other persons interested in the buildings. The results already accomplished indicate that this method is more effective than simply the prosecution under the criminal statutes. It is interesting to note that since the inauguration of this policy, we are receiving in most cases the active cooperation of the owners and holders of mortgages on the properties in question.

UNIFORM CRIME RECORD REPORTING.

The Committee on Uniform Crime Records of the International Association of Chiefs of Police early in 1930 requested this Department to report monthly on printed forms "Offences Known to the Police," which it supplies. The offences reported on are those ordinarily known or reported to the police, and are as follows:—

1. Felonious Homicide:
 - (a) Murder and non-negligent manslaughter,
 - (b) Manslaughter by negligence.
2. Rape.
3. Robbery.
4. Aggravated assault.
5. Burglary — breaking or entering.
6. Larceny,
 - (a) $50 and over in value,
 - (b) Under $50 in value.
7. Auto theft.

The returns from reporting units over the entire country are compiled and tabulated by the National Division of Identification and Information in the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C. The purpose of the returns under offences reported is to ascertain the nature and volume of crime prevalent, its geographical location and the periodic fluctuation of the same.

The Boston Police Department is cooperating in this effort to compile authoritative statistics in regard to crime.

PARADE DUTY.

During the summer and fall of this Tercentenary Year the Boston Police Department was placed under a tremendous strain in handling huge parades and conventions, which brought crowds of unprecedented size to the city. These attractions also further complicated the traffic problem, which is serious under normal conditions. Not one, but many large events, together with observances almost nightly on the Common for several months, made it necessary to have substantial details of police officers on special duty. The manner in which the police handled these large congregations of people, including millions of visitors to Boston, brought unsolicited commendations from those in charge of the observances and conventions, visitors from all over the country, and from public officials.

In addition to preserving order at the events, the police also took special precautions to protect the public from pickpockets and other criminals. To meet this condition a selected group of officers were constantly on duty equipped with photographs of notorious pickpockets and followers of vice from all parts of the country. This new service worked so well that it will be followed in protecting the public from shoplifters, pickpockets and bag snatchers in the retail trade centers of the city during the holiday season.

Practically every member of the Department was obliged to work hundreds of extra hours during the past year without extra compensation and, it may be stated, that this service was rendered without a single complaint from a police officer. In connection with the Tercentenary Observance, the Police Commissioner for the city of London, Sir Hugh Stephenson Turnbull, K. B. E., was the guest of the Department at the Annual Police Parade and exercises on the Common on October 13 which were reviewed by the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Mayor of Boston, and attended by an extraordinarily large gathering of the public.

TRAFFIC.

Early in August, the Office of the Inspector of Carriages, the Department Traffic Shop, the Wagon License Division, together with Traffic Divisions 20 and 21, were consolidated into a unit known as the Bureau of Traffic, in direct charge of a Deputy Superintendent.

On September 2, in order to better enforce the Rules and Regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission, a new system for tagging cars violating these rules was inaugurated. This system consisted of a tag made in three parts which allowed of the handling of all cases of this nature in the Traffic Bureau at Headquarters. It also provided for the notification of the owner of the car irrespective of who was the operator on each violation of the traffic laws. No prosecution was made on the first offence unless of the most aggravated nature. The second offence was not prosecuted if the operator had what seemed to be a reasonable excuse advanced to the Bureau of Traffic. The third offence automatically is sent to court for adjudication by the judge. The fourth offence has, by agreement with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in the Commonwealth, been reported to him for action in dealing with the owner of the offending motor vehicle.

This system has resulted in relieving the lower courts of many petty cases which congested their dockets, and has resulted in relieving the traffic congestion in the business districts, and on the main arteries of travel which had been congested with parked automobiles to such an extent that traffic was seriously delayed in movement, and emergency vehicles, such as the Fire and Police Department vehicles, were seriously hampered in responding to their emergency duties.

HACKNEY CARRIAGES AND STANDS.

By chapter 392 of the Acts of 1930, the General Court substantially amended the former law in regard to granting licenses for hackney stands and carriages in Boston. Pursuant to the provision of this law, the Commissioner is preparing a new set of rules and regulations relative to hackney carriages and stands in the city of Boston, which will become effective on February 1, 1931.

PLANT AND EQUIPMENT.

General repairs were made to the building, including the roof, of the station house of Division 19, located on Morton Street, Mattapan District, and the building repainted.

The House of Detention for Women, located in the Court House Building, with an entrance on Somerset Street, is in process of repair, which work will be completed soon.

The station house of Police Division 7, located on Emmons and Paris Streets, East Boston District, is undergoing remodeling by the Superintendent of Public Buildings of the City of Boston.

The police boat steamer Watchman has been overhauled and put in good order.

A contract has recently been entered into for necessary repairs to the launch E. U. Curtis used on Division 8, the harbor police.

On November 22, 1930, the new police steamer built by the George B. Lawley and Son Corporation, to replace the old boat, Guardian, which was condemned, was launched at the builders' shipyard at Neponset, Mass., and named the Stephen O'Meara for the first Police Commissioner appointed under the so-called single-headed Commission Act of 1906. It is a coal-burning vessel of 118 feet overall, with triple-expansion engine, and equipped with appliances modern and up-to-date. It is expected that this vessel will be put in commission on or about February 15, 1931.

At the Police Headquarters Building, Stuart and Berkeley Streets, the basement floor has been waterproofed to prevent seepage.

At the Department's Motor Vehicle Repair Shop excellent work has been done in connection with the rolling stock of this Department. This workshop located in the basement of the station house of Division 19 is in cramped and limited quarters. Its small personnel has not been able to take care of all the motor vehicle work of the Department. A large saving is made, however, by its operation. During the year, in addition, the employees of this workshop towed from the streets of the city 240 automobiles.

During the year a new system for caring for lost, stolen and abandoned property was inaugurated whereby we are able, through advertising in the daily newspapers, to return to lawful owners a larger portion of unclaimed articles than was possible heretofore.

The revolvers with which the officers of this Department are equipped have been inspected, and where needed, are being put into first-class condition by a firearms expert with the assistance of an officer of this Department, trained for the work. This is the first time that this has been done on such a large scale. The work is progressing in an efficient manner at a very low cost. A yearly inspection by a competent officer of all revolvers in use in this Department will be made in the future.

The motor rolling stock of the Department consists of one ambulance, twenty-one combination ambulance and patrol wagons, two utility wagons, three prison vans, one tow wagon, four trucks, forty-six small vehicles of the pleasure car or runabout type and eighty-two motorcycles with forty-seven sidecar attachments.

To assist in traffic control, to participate on the occasions of parades and other gatherings, to patrol and for such work as occasions demand, the Department is equipped with nineteen saddle horses, all housed in the stable of Police Division 16, Back Bay district. At the present time the Department is one horse short of the total number it needs and three of the horses now on hand should be disposed of on account of age and condition. This is a matter which will require attention in the coming year as very valuable service is rendered by the mounted officers.

The necessity for remedying the crowded conditions in many of our station houses is apparent to even the most casual observer. Study and planning are now going on, with a view of replacing some of the more antiquated buildings housing our officers, and in which the police of this Department are compelled to transact business. Garage facilities in many of the stations do not meet the present-day needs. Improvements along these lines are badly needed and the Commissioner intends to give this matter further attention during the coming year.

The motor patrol wagon in service in the Department was found not to have been improved in several years, and was lacking in equipment necessary for emergency police work both in cases of disturbance as well as the necessary life-saving features. A new body has been designed and mounted upon a high-speed passenger car chassis which is equipped with much necessary equipment as well as being much more suitable for ambulance work. Two of these new cars have been introduced. Three more have been ordered and they will gradually supersede the old-fashioned patrol wagon.

The Police Signal Service provides an electrical-signalling system and telephone communication between the signal boxes and the station houses. Its electrical theory of operation and its physical structure have remained practically the same since it was originally installed. With the view of making this service more flexible to meet the demands for speedy and accurate transmission of police reports, as well as to control the activities of the police on duty throughout the city, plans have already been made to install colored flashing lights upon police signal boxes to call officers, both day and night, while on their "beats" to the nearest box to receive instructions and information. The isolation of officers on the street is not conducive to efficient police work. The Commissioner is also giving special study to the system of intercommunication between the Divisions and Headquarters, and it is contemplated making additional improvements in the signal service, so that the Headquarters and Divisions will be in close touch with each other, and the officers on their "beats" will be available for call at any time.

PERSONNEL.

During the police year ending November 30, 1930, the strength of the uniformed force was practically the same, numbering 2,424 officers at the end of the year as compared to 2,434 officers on December 1, 1929; other employees, totaling 171, remained unchanged, making a total of 2,595 persons on the roll of the Police Department on November 30 of this year.

Chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930 materially increased the annuities to be paid widows and orphans of officers who have died from injuries received while in the discharge of their duties, allowing the Mayor and the City Council to make larger allowances for the support of dependents of officers killed, or dying from injuries received in the performance of duty.

By the provisions of chapter 387 of the Acts of 1930, pension laws for members of the Department not included within the Boston Retirement Act or any other retirement system, were amended so as to provide that the physical and mental examination of a member presented for retirement be conducted by the Medical Board established under the Boston Retirement Act of 1922, instead of by the city physician, as heretofore. Furthermore, under the requirements of this law, the approval of his Honor the Mayor is now required in cases under the "twenty-five consecutive years of service and sixty years of age" provision. The Commissioner in retiring a member of the force under the provision of the above-mentioned law is obliged to submit to the Mayor a certificate in writing stating that the officer to be retired is in good standing and that no charges are pending against him.

During the year 2,769 days were lost by officers of the Department while on duty by reason of injuries received by 266 officers, of which about 30 per cent were on traffic duty. The records of the Department are replete with courageous acts by members in the performance of their official duty, even when faced with liability for serious injury or sudden death.

During the past year Patrolman James J. Troy of Division 6, on January 13, and Patrolman Franklin B. Dwyer of Division 11, on April 24, were shot while attempting to apprehend dangerous criminals and gave their lives in protecting their fellow citizens.

For meritorious work in the detection and apprehension of law violators, the Commissioner since assuming office has commended in General Orders 8 sergeants and 77 patrolmen.

In the same period 1 lieutenant, 3 sergeants and 38 patrolmen have been punished for violation of the Police Rules and Regulations by either suspension from duty with loss of pay, hours of extra duty or reprimands, and 4 officers, after hearing, have been dismissed from the service.

CONCLUSIONS.

The Police Commissioner is given wide powers in the administration of his duties. His responsibilities are clear-cut and definite. While the principal duty of the Police Department is the enforcement of the laws and city ordinances, it is called upon to investigate and report upon thousands of individuals for other governmental agencies, furnish data in regard to prospective jurors, list annually on April 1 all residents twenty years of age and over, issue about twenty-six thousand licenses and permits, and render other varied services and duties to the public.

A Police Department cannot function properly unless it enjoys the confidence of the people it serves. That the public are interested in helping the police enforce the laws is evident from the great numbers of "tips" and suggestions that are received daily by the Commissioner. Furthermore, many of the letters received by the Commissioner in recent months indicate that the public are as quick to appreciate a courteous act by a police officer or an able accomplishment by the Department as they are to resent harsh treatment or inefficient police work. In this connection a group of citizens have recently informed the Commissioner that they wish to donate a number of instruments that will facilitate the detection of forgery and misrepresentation as a token of their appreciation of an outstanding achievement by the Department. The Commissioner is of the opinion that some progress has been made by the Department towards regaining the confidence of the public, the increasing evidence of which has been of inestimable value in restoring the morale of the force as well as stimulating its officers in the performance of their duties.

The Commissioner finds that the Boston Police Department is fundamentally sound, the chief task being to modernize methods and to encourage the development along proper lines of the inherent initiative and ability within the Department.

In the following sections of this report the activities of the Department during the past year are reported upon in detail.

Respectfully submitted:

E. C. HULTMAN,

Police Commissioner for the City of Boston.

Totals	266	2,769	1,371

WORK OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Arrests.

The total number of arrests, counting each arrest as that of a separate person, was 93,592 as against 91,948 the preceding year, being an increase of 1,644. The percentage of decrease and increase was as follows:—

	Per Cent.
Offences against the person	Increase 6.73
Offences against property committed with violence . .	Increase 27.41
Offences against property committed without violence,	Increase 7.36
Malicious offences against property	Increase 2.33
Forgery and offences against the currency	No change
Offences against the license laws	Increase 1.40
Offences against chastity, morality, etc.	Decrease .84
Offences not included in the foregoing	Increase 3.02

There were 14,965 persons arrested on warrants and 47,598 without warrants; 31,029 persons were summoned by the court; 69,174 persons were prosecuted; 23,412 were released by probation officers or discharged at station houses and 1,006 were delivered to outside authorities. The number of males arrested was 88,098; of females, 5,494; of foreigners, 23,491; or approximately 25.09 per cent; of minors, 9,374. Of the total number arrested 28,185 or 30.11 per cent, were non-residents. (See Tables X, XI.)

The average amount of fines imposed by the courts for the five years from 1926 to 1930, inclusive, was $435,189.35; in 1930 it was $425,783; or $9,406.35 less than the average.

The average number of days' attendance at court was 55,085; in 1930 it was 53,714, or 1,371 less than the average.

The average amount of witness fees earned was $14,143.45; in 1930 it was $14,032.20, or $111.25 less than the average. (See Table XIII.)

DRUNKENNESS.

In the arrests for drunkenness the average per day was 92. There were 147 less persons arrested than in 1929, a decrease of .40 per cent; 22.98 per cent of the arrested persons were non-residents and 35.18 per cent of foreign birth. (See Table XI.)

The number of arrests for all offences for the year was 93,592, being an increase of 1,644 over last year, and 2,693 more than the average for the past five years. There were 33,764 persons arrested for drunkenness, being 147 less than last year, and 3,951 less than the average for the past five years. Of the arrests for drunkenness this year, there was an increase of .08 per cent in males and a decrease of .53 per cent in females from last year. (See Tables XI, XIII.)

Of the total number of arrests for the year 93,592, 545 were for violation of city ordinances; that is to say that one arrest in 171 was for such offence, or .58 per cent.

Sixty-two and eight hundredths per cent of the persons taken into custody were between the ages of twenty and forty. (See Table XII.)

NATIVITY OF PERSONS ARRESTED.

The number of persons punished by fines was 33,732 and the fines amounted to $425,783. (See Table XIII.)

Ninety-two persons were committed to the State Prison, 2,220 to the House of Correction, 30 to the Women's Prison, 131 to the Reformatory Prison, 2,515 to other institutions and 1 to the Bridgewater State Criminal Asylum.

The total years of imprisonment were 2 life, 2,073 years, 2 months (487 sentences indefinite); the total number of days' attendance at court by officers was 53,714, and the witness fees earned by them amounted to $14,032.20.

The value of the property taken from prisoners and lodgers was $210,437.17.

Fourteen witnesses were detained at station houses, 308 were accommodated with lodgings, an increase of 167 from last year. There was an increase of 2.36 per cent in the number of sick and injured persons assisted, and an increase of about 23.03 per cent in the number of lost children cared for.

The average amount of property stolen in and out of the city for the five years from 1926. to 1930. inclusive, was $1,716,364.49. in 1930 it was $2,232,902.17. or $516,537.68 more than the average. The amount of property stolen in and out of the city, which was recovered by the Boston Police, was $2,683,603.22. as against $3,580,849.30 last year, or $897,246.08 less. [See Table XIII.]

BUREAU OF CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION.

Since May of this year the Bureau, which is the central detective office of the Department, has operated on a scale much larger than heretofore. Because of a considerable increase in the personnel and additional equipment, it is now operating more efficiently. The Bureau is always open and is subject to call for police service at all times.

The activities of this unit cover such a wide field that a statement of the work of some of its sub-divisions may be of interest.

AUTOMOBILE DIVISION.

This division investigates all reports of automobiles reported stolen and is in daily communication with police departments all over the country. The automobile index contains records of 200,000 automobiles, consisting of cars stolen in Boston, cars stolen in other places, cars reported purchased and sold, and cars for which owners are wanted. This index is constantly increasing.

All applications for Used Car Dealers' Licenses are investigated by officers of this division. Frequent examinations are made to ascertain if used car dealers are conforming to the conditions of their licenses.

In addition to recovering many stolen automobiles, members of this division, during the year, have identified a number of automobiles which were recovered or found abandoned on police divisions and have assisted in restoring these vehicles to the owners.

Licenses have been granted since 1919 to individuals, firms and corporations to act as Used Car Dealers of the First, Second and Third Classes.

During the year 280 applications for such licenses were received, 268 of which were granted (3 "without fee") and 12 were rejected.

Of the licenses granted, 16 were voluntarily surrendered for cancellation and 17 transferred to new locations. One application for transfer to new location was rejected and five licenses suspended indefinitely. (See Table XIV.)

HOMICIDE DIVISION.

This division investigates all deaths by violence and prepares all cases for inquest. It examines and records all reports of accidents and cases of serious injury. Officers attached to this division, with police stenographers, are subject to call at any hour of the day or night. The homicide files contain complete reports of all deaths by violence in Boston, a record of all inquests and a record of all deaths and serious accidents which are reported to the Police Department.

Officers of this division detailed to assist the medical examiners report having investigated 773 cases of death from the following causes:—

IDENTIFICATION DIVISION.

During the past year the efficiency of this division has been greatly increased through the installation of complete and thoroughly modern criminal identification equipment. The rectigraph, fingerprint cameras, copying and enlarging cameras, view cameras and photo record machine now in use in the identification division make it possible to render a service which will compare favorably with the service rendered by any other identification bureau in this country. The files in this office contain records of all arrests and assignments made at the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, also records of all arrests throughout the Department where the offence is of sufficient seriousness to require fingerprints or photographs of the defendants.

In the identification division records are kept of all persons committed to Massachusetts State Prison, including their fingerprints and photographs. Photographs and records of the inmates of the Massachusetts Reformatory and records of the inmates of the Suffolk County House of Correction are also filed in this Bureau. In addition to the foregoing, the files contain many thousands of photographs, fingerprints, correspondence, records, clippings and histories of criminals arrested or wanted in various parts of the United States and foreign countries. There are now approximately 350,000 persons recorded in the files of this Bureau.

During the year 31,900 circulars containing photographs and fingerprints of persons wanted in this city for various crimes were drafted and mailed from this office to every city and town in the United States of 5,000 population or more, to state bureaus of identification, to all army and navy recruiting stations, and to a number of the larger cities in foreign countries.

Photographs of criminals arrested by the Boston Police Department and photographs received from other sources are now filed in segregated cabinets. Pictures received from outside departments are placed in the foreign segregated file and those taken by this Department are placed in the local segregated file.

The photographs of the criminals are segregated into four distinct sections, namely, white, negro, yellow and gypsy. Each of these groups is further subdivided according to the sex and they are all classified under the heading of the crimes in which they specialize.

The identification division has rendered efficient and beneficial service to local and out of town officers in exhibiting photographs of criminals in the segregated files to victims of robberies, confidence games, pickpockets, etc., and in many instances important identifications have been made. Valuable assistance has also been rendered to government officials, Post Office Department, Treasury Department, Secret Service, Department of Justice, Prohibition Department and railroad and express companies.

The fingerprint system has practically eliminated the Bertillon system as a means of criminal identification. During the year the identity of hundreds of criminals was established through the fingerprint files in this division, for this and other Departments. Among the most important of these identifications were those of several persons who were wanted for murder.

Members of this division visited the scene of homicides, burglaries, robberies and other crimes and in many instances secured photographs of fingerprints of the persons who committed these crimes and in a number of cases took photographs of the scenes where crimes were committed.

The figures and other data submitted as a part of the report of the identification division show a decided increase in the volume of the work handled by this unit during the past year.

LOST AND STOLEN PROPERTY DIVISION.

A description of all articles reported lost, stolen or found in this city are filed in this division. All of the surrounding cities and towns and many other cities forward lists of property stolen in such places to be filed. All pawnbrokers and second-hand dealers submit daily reports of all articles pawned or purchased. A comparison of the descriptions of articles lost or stolen and those articles which are pawned or purchased by dealers resulted in the recovery of thousands of dollars of stolen property and the arrest of many thieves. Approximately 150,000 cards were filed in the stolen property index during the year.

In addition, members of this bureau visit pawnshops and second-hand shops daily and inspect property pawned or purchased for the purpose of indentifying property which may have been stolen.

GENERAL.

The number of cases reported at this Bureau which were investigated during the year is 51,920. There are 47,590 cases reported on the assignment books kept for this purpose and reports made on these cases are filed away for future reference. Complaints are received from many sources, including cases referred to the Bureau by justices of courts and the district attorney in addition to cases reported direct to the police department.

The statistics of the work of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation is included in the statements of the general work of the Department, but as the duties of this bureau are of special character, the following statement may be of interest:—

Number of persons arrested	3,018
Fugitives from justice from other states arrested and delivered to officers from those states	67
Number of cases investigated	51,920
Number of extra duties performed	1,151
Number of cases of homicide, etc.	249
Number of cases of abortion, etc.	8
Number of days spent in court by police officers	4,105
Number of years of imprisonment, 95 years, 4 months and 57 indefinite terms.
